

Western Health

Western Health is the major public provider of health services throughout Western Metropolitan Melbourne, one of the fastest growing population corridors in Australia, with a population of more than 800,000 people.

Employing more than 6500 staff, Western Health has a strong philosophy of working with its local community to deliver excellence in patient care.

Chief Executive Officer

The Board of one of the most culturally diverse health services in Australia is seeking an exceptional individual to fill the role of Chief Executive Officer and provide outstanding leadership.

This is a unique opportunity for the new Chief Executive Officer to continue the outstanding work of Western Health in caring for its patients, staff and communities.

As an executive leader of one of Melbourne's largest health providers in the fastest growing region of Australia, the Chief Executive Officer will be responsible for all strategic and operational aspects of Western Health.

The ideal candidate will be able to demonstrate:

- Experience as an accomplished leader of complex organisations. This experience will ideally come from operational leadership of a large scale hospital or other health environment
- Credibility and the capacity to connect and build meaningful partnerships with other health providers and the wider community, particularly in the context of a region with a high degree of socio-economic disadvantage and a significant proportion of non-English speaking patients
- An ability to represent Western Health in the community with key stakeholders, including the Department of Health and Human Services (Victoria) and other health services, local government, and academic and research partners.

Egon Zehnder has been engaged to partner with Western Health to conduct a global search for this important role.
